More

People describe Anne as dynamic, fun, and refreshingly candid. After operating businesses in Africa for 12 years, where she literally had to manage El Nino floods, elephants stealing inventory and employee racism, she knows how to motivate others to find their own inner resources for almost impossible situations. Anne is married and juggles work and an elementary school daughter’s social life.

Anne resides in the DC Metro Area and coaches in person throughout Virginia, Maryland, Washington D.C., Delaware and the NYC areas.
