Experience / Approach

Barbara Baill, M.A., is the Principal of Perceptus, Inc. and a Strategic Partner with Mariposa. Barbara brings to her clients the wisdom and learning from 25 + years of Human Resources and line management experience in the fast-paced environments of high-tech industries. This included 5 years leading HP's Global Executive Development function and 7 years as the VPHR for Quantum Corporation's Disk Drive Business; both assignments resulting in driving large scale organization change initiatives. Barbara began her coaching career in 2002, dedicated to helping leaders increase their leadership impact and find more personal satisfaction in both their business roles and personal lives.

Barbara works with both individuals and teams to:

- Receive feedback that helps them develop a deep understanding (i.e. "the story") of how the client is perceived throughout the company) and to learn how to shift that story
- Develop the understanding and capacity for optimizing their strengths
- Learn to broaden their view of themselves and others and better balance inquiry and advocacy
- Broaden and deepen relationships across the organization which will facilitate making greater impact
